ROLE OF THE CLERK TO THE COUNCIL

Why become a Clerk?

Becoming a Clerk to a Parish, Town or Community Council is one of the most rewarding jobs in a local community - a competent Clerk underpins a good Council.

The role of Clerk is to ensure that the Council as a whole conducts its business properly and to provide independent, objective and professional advice and support and being a Clerk puts you in the centre of things.

Parish, Town and Community Councils are part of Local Government in your county together with your County Council and District/ Borough Councils or Unitary Authority.

The County Council/Unitary Authority is responsible for strategic services such as highways, education, libraries, social services, strategic planning and refuse disposal.

District/Borough Councils are responsible for local services including housing, local planning and refuse collection.

The Parish, Town Community Councils in the County are often viewed as the part of government closest to the people.

They are the only local government tier that represents residents at Parish and Town level.

Importantly Parish, Town and Community Councils can precept – raising their own council tax each year to improve facilities and services for local people.

Their powers and duties cover many things that we take for granted in making for comfort and well-being where we live and can include the provision and maintenance of allotments, burial grounds and public monuments, public clocks, halls, some street lighting, litter bins, car parks, public toilets, rights of way, roadside verges, bus shelters, swimming pools and village greens.

Parish Councils are consulted on and can comment on planning applications and be represented at public inquiries, planning appeals and examinations in public. Similarly, they advise the Unitary/County/District/Borough Councils on the views of residents, and especially on priorities for local investment.

Most Council meetings are open to the public and are led by the Council's Chairperson and advised by the Clerk to the Council who is there to see that business is conducted within the law.

What does the Clerk to the Council do?

The enclosed job description lists the duties in detail, but the main duties of the job can be summarised as to:

- ensure that the Council conducts its business lawfully
- administer all the Council's paperwork
- ensure that meeting papers are properly prepared, and the public is aware of meeting times
- Responsible for the financial affairs of the council
- communicate the Council's decisions

- organise and manage the provision of the Council services
- organise and oversee the implementation of projects
- manage and lead the staff
- communicate and market the Council services and facilities
- keep property register and other legal documents
- keep up to date by training/qualification/experience-based learning.

The key duties and responsibilities to be undertaken are detailed in the job description included in the pack

Skills and attributes needed

Clerks usually pride themselves in having a good deal of common sense, confidence to handle the administrative work, being a good organiser, IT literate and able to get on with most people.

The key attributes required are detailed in the person specification included in the Recruitment Information Pack but underwriting these qualities is a sense of public duty - of wanting to help others in the community.

HISTORY AND PROFILE OF THE COUNCIL

Council Area and Environment:

- Bishop's Itchington lies 11 kms southeast of Leamington Spa and 19 kms east of Stratford upon-Avon
- The parish includes the village itself, outlying farms and isolated dwellings, and new housing developments, the last being Bishops Hill which is a short distance from the main built-up area
- Bishop's Itchington is within the local authority area of Stratford on-Avon District Council and is represented by two District Councillors. It is also part of the Feldon Division of Warwickshire County Council and is represented by a County Councillor
- The parish covers 1,233 hectares.

Bishop's Itchington has a long, rural past and is noted in the Domesday Book of 1086, when it was home to around 200 people in 43 households. At this time, the village was owned by the Bishop of Lichfield and Coventry and consisted of two separate settlements sharing one field system. The primary settlement, Nether Itchington, was located about a mile south of the current village where Old Town Farm now stands, whilst Upper Itchington was the location of today's village. The name Bishop's Itchington appears to be a collective term for the two separate Itchingtons' owned by the Bishop of Coventry. During the late 16th century, Nether Itchington declined through depopulation and Upper Itchington became firmly established.

The population remained relatively unchanged until the beginning of the 19th century, when a blue lias limestone seam was discovered. This brought quarrying to the village and, later, the cement works. The village became more accessible in the 1850s, with the opening of the turnpike road (now Station Road) which linked the village with the Great Western Railway via a station at Deppers Bridge, 2.5 kms to the north. Whilst active, the quarry and cement works provided employment for people living in the village.

With the decline in quarrying activity and eventual closure of the cement works in 1970, the employment opportunities within the parish reduced and residents sought work away from the village. The legacy of the quarrying activities is several lakes and pools, some of these having been turned into fishing lakes. The cement works has been demolished, and this brownfield site has been developed into housing and a nature reserve.

The nearby conurbations of Warwick, Leamington Spa and Coventry are within easy reach for employment opportunities but, since the building of the M40 motorway in the early 1990s and the opening of Warwick Parkway station, there have been further changes to the nature of the village. Easy access to the motorway and rail networks makes the village attractive to commuters working further afield. Aston Martin Lagonda and Jaguar Land Rover operations at the former RAF Gaydon site have further increased the appeal of Bishop's Itchington as a place to live.
